CONGRESS ASKED FOR HUGE SUM

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Carrying $69,533,399.25, or $15,581,399.08 more than last year the largest legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill in the nation's history was reported to the House today by the appropriations committee.

The largest increases are found in the war and treasury departments and were made necessary, the report says, by the greatly increased number of war employees. For the employees of the war department $5,119,013 more than last year was appropriated. The war risk insurance bureau was given $2,341,000 and collecting the income tax requires $2,742,000 more than last year.

No general plan for increasing the salaries of government employees is carried in the bill, the plan of the appropriations committee being to do this in a separate measure.

By L. C. MARTIN.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The railroad control bill was in the hands of the House and Senate conferees today with every prospect of speedy agreement on the differences between the two houses.

As it passed the House late last night, the bill was as complete a victory for the administration as the Senate measure. The differences to be settled by conferees are slight that it is expected the measure will reach President Wilson early next week.

Here are the differences between the House and Senate bills:

Under the House bill, the President can fix railroad rates by executive order. He may submit disputes to the Interstate Commerce Commission, but is not bound to abide by that body's findings.

Under the Senate bill, the President can initiate rates and make them immediately effective but they are subject to review by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The House fixed the period of government control after the war at not more than two years; the Senate at eighteen months. The administration bill originally left this period until Congress shall order otherwise.

Both House and Senate bills take all short line competitive railroads under government control and both provide the $500,000 revolving fund for financing the project.

Mr. London offered an amendment turning the railroads back to private ownership ninety-nine years after peace comes.

The final vote on the measure was 327 to 6, those who opposed it being Thomas of Kentucky and Gordon of Ohio, Democrats; Chandler of Oklahoma, Democrat; Illinois, Haugen and Manser of Iowa, Republicans.

The House today was to take up anti-profiteering legislation affecting the District of Columbia. The Senate is to pass the war finance corporation bill.

Experts Tell of Farm Needs Suggest Labor Remedies

Conditions on California farms and in the labor markets in 1917, and recommendations concerning possible remedies for the labor shortage feared by farmers for the coming season, are made the subject of a detailed study in a bulletin prepared by Professor R. L. Adams and T. R. Kelly, of the State Farm Labor Office, representing the United States Department of Agriculture, the University of California, College of Agriculture and the California Council of Defense.

Importation of labor, better use of the local supply, wages, living conditions on the farms, conscription of labor, the labor question in its relation to the farm labor question, the use of school boys, labor—all these phases of the situation are considered in detail by Adams and Kelly in their study.

The bulletin opens with a study of general conditions, and contains a number of detailed investigations ranging from inquiry into the kind of food provided on many farms to the experiences of Oakland Bay Scouts and Oakland and Berkeley high school boys on farms and in the asparagus cutting industry.

The last recommendation of Adams and Kelly is that in obtaining labor for 1918 on the farms that better facilities for utilizing to the full the available home supply must be provided.

DUTIES OF FARMERS.
This means more attention on the part of farmers to the essentials of wage, housing, food, hours, and supervision. It may require the closing of the saloons, anti-vagrancy laws, or some similar course of action, the two experts point out.

Much can be done to relieve the shortage if immediate action is taken to render the present supply more available and efficient. If, however, through failure to take action, or if, no matter how carefully manipulated, the supply fails to be sufficient, importation from outside sources sufficient to insure the need of all farmers.

In reviewing the possible sources of supply through importation, Adams and Kelly found that "existing prosperous bound to abide by that body's findings.

Under the Senate bill, the President can initiate rates and make them immediately effective but they are subject to review by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

conditions in Japan," and the present policy of the Indian government prevent the possibility of importing Japanese and Hindus; that Hawaiian and Philippine Islands are closed as having an extensive possibilities; but that "it now appears that a large number of Mexicans can be obtained and under reasonable arrangements so far as the Mexican government is concerned."

CHINESE LABOR REVIEWED.

The question of the possibility of importing Chinese labor is reviewed in detail, and an elaborate plan worked out under which this source of supply might be made available, under strict government supervision, almost exclusively for the use of the larger employer, but automatically, thereby, relieving the difficulty of the small employer. The report continues:

"So many difficulties beset the work of private importation that once the need of outside labor is definitely determined, importation of it under federal jurisdiction is a most practical necessity, unless it be done by the nation as a whole. For example, 25,000 men are needed to insure California crop production, the responsibility for getting them may rightly be vested in federal authority. This authority would provide concentration camps, guarantee wages, assign the jobs, set the wage scale, determine the size of units to be sent out, provide group foremen and interpreters, supply transportation from place to place as crop needs demand, be responsible for proper housing, protect the farmer from unfair desertions, and keep constant track of the men involved."

It is believed, moreover, that these suggestions can be carried out without any taint of peonage or other character repugnant to our laws and customs."

CAUSE IS CITED.

The report shows that while there was a shortage in labor in 1917, indicated in increased wage scales, difficulty in keeping quality, as compared with normal production, and by inability to expand sufficiently to meet war demands for products, "there were no state-wide losses in crops actually planted, nor serious reduction in the amount of cropped acreation as a result of labor shortage. Losses were scattered, local, and mostly individual."

A striking section of the bulletin deals with the reduction in the efficiency of farm labor in 1917, due to the taking of the better class of labor for war industries, and the resulting normal production of the taking of the normal and average better class of men from the farms by the draft. The report says:

"Estimates of 1917 efficiency compared with 1916, range in a drop from 10 per cent to 65-75 per cent, with a general average, as nearly as can be stated, of 25 per cent drop in efficiency."

At the same time it is noted by the investigators that there was a general advance in wages over the same period of 5 to 100 per cent, or a general advance of 40 per cent for both large and small operators reporting increases.

FINDS NO GROUNDS FOR CASE REVERSAL

Supreme Court's decision, declared his next step would probably be to take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States.

If the decision of the Supreme Court on this application for a rehearing is not satisfactory to the defense, a petition will be made to Governor William D. Stephens asking him to make a complete investigation into the entire matter, McNutt said.

Mooney still has a chance for life through the executive clemency of Governor Stephens. Some time ago a special mediation commission appointed by President Wilson and headed by Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, investigated the Mooney case and recommended to the President that Mooney be given a new trial.

President Wilson wrote a letter to Governor Stephens, who refused to divulge the contents on the ground that it might influence the decision of the Supreme Court.

Amplifications of the murder trial of Thomas J. Mooney included an investigation ordered by President Wilson and disturbances on the streets of Petrograd.

The President's mediation commission, which was directed to examine the situation while carrying on its work on the Pacific coast said, in a report made public January 26, that changes in the evidence brought out in connection with the trials of other defendants "cast doubt upon the prior convictions of Billings and Mooney," and that while the record of each trial separately might be such as to preclude appeal, the records of all trials taken together "leave the mind in the greatest uncertainty as to the complicity of the accused."

Warren L. Billings, referred to in the report, was the first man tried for murder in connection with a bomb explosion in a preparedness day parade here July 22, 1916, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mooney, who came next, was convicted of murder in the first degree February 9, 1917, and sentenced February 24 to be hanged.

The trial judge later advised the attorney-general of California that in view of later developments Mooney should be retried. One of the reasons, he said, was that F. E. Rigall, of Grayville, Ill., had offered letters bearing Oxman's signature, urging him to come out and testify in the case. Oxman was tried for subornation of perjury and was acquitted.

He was not used as a witness in later trials. The attorney-general in turn filed with the Supreme Court a "consent" to a new trial. The Supreme Court found nothing in the constitution enabling it to act on such a document and proceeded with consideration of an appeal which had been filed previously. This is the appeal, decision on which was given today.

Cables from Petrograd concerning street demonstrations over "Mooney the anarchist," reported in Russia to have been hanged in San Francisco, meanwhile directed attention of the state department to the case. President Wilson communicated with Governor William D. Stephens of California, and was advised that Mooney's appeal, filed February 21, 1917, was still pending, and he could not be hanged unless the appeal was decided adversely.

REGISTRATION BEING RUSHED

County Clerk George E. Cross is rushing the registration in the sixth class cities of the county, in which general elections for city officials will be held April 6, and for which voters must be registered by March 8.

The towns of the sixth class are Emeryville, Albany, Piedmont, San Lorenzo, Hayward, Pleasanton and Livermore.

Gross has given instructions that there is no such thing as a Progressive-Republican or Progressive-Democrat for registration purposes. Registration is along the old lines unless the registrant wants to register straight Progressive. He anticipates a drive on behalf of candidates who want to get on a combination ticket, and for the purpose of whose petition registration can be changed 30 days before the registration closes.

County Clerk Cross says the women are registering in great numbers in spite of the liability to jury duty. The efforts of the women deputies who are volunteering their time and devoting the fee to the Women's War Work organization, is resulting in the great registration being made up sooner than ever before in the history of the county.

The registration to date is being checked up to find how the party alignment is running.

U. S. MERCHANT MARINE GROWING

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The growing American merchant marine was increased by 399 sea-going vessels in the last six months of 1917, government officials said, or an average of more than two a day.

Many of the vessels were built in the United States, having been under construction for foreign accounts and taken over by the American government. Others were interned German ships, but the large steamers like the Vaterland, which were commandeered by the navy, are not included in the total of 399.

Figures previously made public showed that more than 1,000,000 tons of shipping

TRAPPED IN HIS DUGOUT, SOLDIER STAYS AT BOARD

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, March 1.—An American telephone operator working at a switchboard in a dugout in the sector "gassed" by the Germans on Tuesday morning had a thrilling experience. Earth thrown up by heavy German shells blocked the entrance to the dugout, and the American was held a prisoner in his underground telephone office for fifteen hours. During all that time he continued to send messages and answer his calls, wearing his gas mask most of the time for fear that fumes would seep into the dugout.

He was added to the American merchant marine in 1917.

LIMITS GRAIN FOR ALL MAKERS OF BEER

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Beer makers are limited to 70 per cent of grain and other food materials used last year, the food administration ruled today.

It was also explained that makers may use rye flour as wheat substitute only until March 31. Originally its use as a wheat substitute was permitted only until March 3, but difficulty in obtaining the substitutes in some sections forced extension of the time limit.

Laries, confessed to stabbing Jenkins to death, police said.

SHORTER DAY TO ADVANCE LUMBER

The entire lumber industry of the Pacific Coast, with a few minor exceptions, was placed on an eight-hour day basis today, with the old wage scale of ten hours' pay remaining until there can be adjustment of the situation through the agency of Colonel Bruce P. Disque, the representative of President Wilson.

This action follows meetings held by the lumbermen of the Pacific Coast in Portland and San Francisco. It is announced that it was the voluntary act of the lumbermen to grant the eight-hour day, urged by Colonel Disque, who pointed out the urgent need of the government for lumber in the present emergency.

At the meeting of the lumber men of Humboldt county in San Francisco yesterday the following action was taken: The 100,000 feet of fir and redwood lumber annually, it is expected, will be affected. The Humboldt lumber men who have accepted the schedule said that the shorter working day will undoubtedly bring an increase in the price of lumber.

The agreement was signed for the following concerns: Northern Redwood Lumber Company, Polber & Carson Lumber Company, McKay & Co., Bay-side Lumber Company, Pacific Lumber Company, Hammond Lumber Company and the B. J. Dodge Company.

Snook Heads White Plague Foes Work of Society Is Reviewed

With a full year of work rounded out representing the care and examination of 915 patients receiving 2298 treatments and more than 1500 home visits from nurses and physicians, the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis came up to its eighth annual meeting last evening to review the work which had been accomplished.

Two hundred prominent men and women assembled at the dinner at Hotel Oakland to listen to the survey of the past twelve months; to elect the leaders to carry the important society through the coming year; and to be inspired by those who were authorities not only in health matters, but questions which touched on all social problems.

Charles E. Snook was elected president of the organization, and Harrison S. Robinson who retired as president becomes first vice-president. Mrs. Allen O. Freeman will be second vice-president; Fred B. Taylor, treasurer, and Miss Annie Florence Brown, secretary.

Martin A. Meyer, rabbi in Temple Emanuel, and president of the State Board of Charities and Corrections; Mrs. E. L. M. Tate-Thompson, director of the bureau of the state bureau of tuberculosis; Dr. Raymond J. Cary, superintendent and medical director of the Arroyo Sanatorium at Livermore; and J. W. McClymonds, superintendent emeritus of the Oakland public schools, were the guests of honor and the speakers of the evening.

Judge Charles E. Snook

CALL FOR CARDS

Out of the 700 alien German registrations in Oakland there remained today only 35 identification cards that have not been called for, according to Corporal V. J. Coley, in charge of the registration bureau. It is believed that all of the cards will be taken up within the next 24 hours. The time limit, which expired yesterday, has been extended until tomorrow night.

REDMOND IS ILL

LONDON, March 1.—John Redmond, the noted Irish leader, has just submitted to a serious operation. It was announced here today. The patient was said to be making satisfactory progress.

WAGE INCREASED

LONDON, March 1.—A wage increase to the textile workers in Northern England and Southern Scotland was announced today. Two hundred and forty thousand workers are affected.

NEW SPIRIT NEEDED

Rabbi Meyer eloquently outlined a plan whereby the government of the state might provide the funds which would carry on not only such work as is being done by the tuberculosis society, but all social agencies working for the betterment of the state. A tax levied by the state would be no burden on anyone, he declared, and generous regulations should govern its expenditure that it might be used not only by public officials but by private organizations.

"We cannot disguise the fact that no matter how careful and big-hearted we are the work is a sort of charitable dole. We need to create a new spirit in these who are called upon to receive. We pride ourselves that in democratic America we send our children to the public schools. We do not look upon them as a charity because we are honestly paying our taxes for their upkeep. If we arrive at a sense of real community giving those who will receive will not do it with a broken manhood and we will lose our sense of private giving. Only when this great centralized agency of the state contributes the upkeep may

GIVES CAMP FIGURES

Giving three days out of every ten to the men in Camp Kearny who are discharged from military duty because of tuberculosis, Mrs. Thompson gave some figures which are of interest to the public. According to her statements in the first draft 124 men were excluded from service because of the white plague. In six months there have been excluded a total of 3174 men in the state camps for this reason, 810 of them being citizens of California. She put eloquently before her audience the worthlessness of all the effort which was being made, and in a few touching stories gave a picture of the terror which these men between the ages of 21 and 31 faced when they learned that they were victims of the disease.

Mrs. Thompson spends three days out of each ten in Camp Kearny meeting the men who are discharged with tuberculosis.

Dr. Cary touched upon the prevalence of tuberculosis in Alameda county, showing that with a population of 350,000 there were last year 128 beds available active cases with but 128 beds available for the care of the patients. He urged a broader education on behalf of the patients and public. As a practical method of assisting in the Arroyo Sanatorium he suggested that local entertainment committees be named to provide recreation for the patients as a vital part of the cure.

WILL TAKE OVER WORK

That the tuberculosis society was expending as much for its work as the health department in the public schools was the statement of J. W. McClymonds. He asserted that he had been told that within ten years the county would have taken over the work which the organization had done for the past twenty years.

Hurry, Mother, Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at Once if Bilious or Constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul constipated, waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt—Advertisement.

Woolwine Opens Campaign For Governor's Nomination

THOMAS L. WOOLWINE

Denies President Will Stump State for Heney

Branding as false, widespread rumors that President Wilson would stump the state for Francis J. Heney, exhibiting a certified statement tending to show that Heney had registered in Los Angeles not later than January of this year as a Republican, and declaring that Senator James D. Phelan had denied his support of Heney in a personal letter, Thomas L. Woolwine, district attorney of Los Angeles county, opened his heavy artillery for gubernatorial recognition at the Hotel Oakland last night.

Woolwine spoke before prominent factors in east bay Democratic affairs, both men and women, in the blue room. He made no attempt at oratory, confining his remarks to a simple outline of his political purposes and theories, his opinions on state administration. He attacked food profiteering as a national evil and a state economic deterrent, branded the administration of Justice under monetary influences as one of the needed directions for reform, and pledged himself to a "square" administration if elected.

Woolwine's chief attack was upon Heney's claim that he was a Democrat. He made no attack on Heney personally, confining his remarks to official records which he read to his listeners. He said:

DETEST FRAUD. "I have always detested fraud and deception even in political campaigns. There has been for some time past, notoriously promulgated throughout this state an utterly fallacious statement put forth by the supporters of Mr. Heney to the effect that the President of the United States would not only support him in the present primary campaign but would leave his important duties in the near and distant future to California and make speeches in the interest of Mr. Heney's ambition to become governor of the State of California. I wish at this time to brand these statements as wholly false and fraudulent, fabricated for the express purpose of deceiving the people of the state. These fallacies actually have the tendency to issue a large number of postal cards addressed to people throughout the state in which they claim that Mr. Heney has been 'assured' the support of President Wilson." This postal, bears among others, the name of Isadore Jacobs.

"President Wilson is now engaged in the herculean task of directing in large measure the world's supreme struggle for the perpetuity of democracy, and knowing the situation as I do I am satisfied that he would not quite appreciate the unwelcome use of his name in a purely local contest.

"The claim has likewise been made by Mr. Heney's supporters that Senator Phelan would support Mr. Heney as against myself, which I also brand as utterly false. I have a letter from Senator Phelan definitely assuring me that he would take no part in the primary campaign. The effort has also been made by such supporters to deceive the people into the belief that Mr. Heney is a Democrat, which is a matter of fact on January 1, 1918, he stood registered upon the great register of Los Angeles county as a Republican, which is borne out by a certified statement now in my possession.

"It is not my intention during this campaign to indulge in criticism or criticism except where the facts actually justify the same or where it becomes necessary to expose deceit and falsehood.

NOT A PARTY. "I cannot bring myself to believe that Mr. Heney has lent himself to such a palpable deception and this must not be construed as in any sense an attack upon him, but is intended as an exposure of the methods now being employed by his supporters.

Woolwine also called attention to the fact that on July 3, 1914, when his residence was at 553 Fell street, San Francisco, Heney registered on the Great Register as a Progressive.

Outlining the more personal phase of his candidacy for the governorship, Woolwine declared he was more or less of an idealist influenced by old-fashioned ideas of right and wrong.

"I am with anybody when they are right and against them when they are wrong," he said. "The man who is working for so much a day—the laboring man—must have protection against the encroachments of wealth in the administration of justice. And the man of wealth must have a square deal as against the working man. That is democracy. It is all right to prosecute where protection is needed, but give the little man a chance. Don't always have the procession to the dim twilight of the prison cell composed of the little man. Get some of the big ones. That is why I am against the food profiteers."

Woolwine was roughly applauded when he declared that all he wanted in the present campaign was "a fair open fight free from mud-slinging." John J. McDonald, chairman of the Democratic County Central committee, presided.

The following comment was made by Isadore Jacobs concerning the charges made by Woolwine when he branded as false the postal cards sent out by the "Heney for Governor League," of which Jacobs is the chairman, stating that President Wilson would stump the State for Heney:

"The arguments Woolwine is using are splendid and I hope he will keep right on with similar ones. He is too young in politics to know yet who is for and who is against him. His charges are so absurd that I will make no reply to them. The reply will come from Heney himself, who will be here March 20."

NEW INCORPORATION. The E. G. Cox Manufacturing Company, capitalized at $100,000, to engage in the manufacture of machinery and farm implements, employing about 100 men, filed articles of incorporation in the office of the county clerk today. The incorporators are E. G. Cox, G. A. Gray, Al W. Isaacs, Arthur Hargrave and W. H. Judson.

MARCH SAYS U.S. SOLDIERS ARE HAPPY

AN ATLANTIC PORT, March 1.—Major-General Peyton C. March, recently appointed chief of staff of the United States Army, who has been in France with General Pershing, arrived at this port today on board an American liner. Other passengers were Generals F. H. French and Joseph M. Sturgis and the Lord Archbishop of York.

American officers in France cannot understand the present censorship method. General March said, adding:

"I know of no gentle method of conducting a war of this magnitude and no army can expect to have no one hurt."

"The American forces are remarkable for their morale and health," he declared. "They are keen about the game. Those on the battle line now and the reserves, too, are so well trained in modern warfare that they can handle themselves with entire credit to the United States. I inspected the troops on the line just before I left France and they are extraordinarily cheerful and contented, notwithstanding the mud and the German shells."

"Their health is splendid. There is no sickness and there is better morale than there was at the Mexican border, where I was stationed before going abroad. The spirit of the Americans is splendid and every man is happy. A great many of the men take it as a lark, the majority never before having been outside of the United States and some never even outside of their own states. It is a great advantage to the men that everything is new and interesting to them; this serves to keep up their spirits."

MANHATTAN SINKS

AN ATLANTIC PORT, March 1.—The British freight steamship Manhattan of 8004 tons gross was torpedoed and sunk while in convoy of warships and within hailing distance of an American merchantman, it was learned today on the arrival here of an American oil tanker.

FURNISH PERFUME. The perfume of garlic will permeate the room when this case comes to court. Lum Sing is suing J. Wilson for the balance due on 75 sacks of the favorite fruit of the man from Szechuan. The agreed price for the 75 sacks grown and sold by the Chinaman was $1100, of which only $700 has been paid, according to the allegation.

BOARD IS SCORED

Charles Shilling, chief clerk in the fire department, in resigning his position today, following refusal on the part of the civil service board to allow him an increase in salary, took occasion to criticize the board for its attitude towards the entire department, declaring that it has been responsible for laying the department open to political machinations. Shilling, who has been in the city employ for a number of years, leaves to take a new position in Santa Barbara at a higher salary.

"The situation in the fire department is largely due to the unfriendliness on the part of members of the civil service board toward Commissioner P. F. Jackson," said Shilling. "At the present time nearly 500 of the members are not eligible for re-election and have been under a make-shift. Eligible lists are made in practically every office in the department. The board has accused Commissioner Jackson of playing politics in the department but the board itself has been open for criticism and attack."

ASSISTANT CHIEF NAMED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Miss Mary Smith has been appointed assistant chief of the women's division of the United States Employment Service at Washington, according to a telegraphic communication received here today.

URNS HOME

Major Judge William M. Conley, of Contra Costa county, who has been sitting in the United States court at San Francisco for two months, during the last week, returned to his home. Conley's son, Philip, a first lieutenant in the service, was aboard the transport Tuscania, sunk off the coast of Tuscany. The judge received word from his son announcing that he was safe, but during the receipt of the cablegram the receipt of the cablegram was difficult for the father to believe and keep attention to the fact. The son is now in France.

CITY PRISON FUGITIVE IS CAPTURED

C. L. (Joe) Kopikus, who made a sensational escape from the city prison, one of the highest jails in the country, by slipping into the prison elevator and slamming the door behind him, two weeks ago, has been captured at Marysville, according to advices received by the police today. He was taken in a battle of wits and a long chase in which he was under arrest by the postoffice authorities for alleged swindling. They will be taken to San Francisco in custody of the United States marshal.

With Kopikus was James Comerford, notorious pickpocket, and two time loser who was recently discharged in the police court following his arrest on a grand larceny charge which was dismissed after a hearing. He was accused of robbing a patron in a Eighth-street resort.

Comerford himself has a record of putting over one of the most clever escapes from the Alameda county jail. Nearly four years ago he walked out past deputy jailors, dressed as a woman, shaking hands with his bid goodbye. He was later captured and brought back by Sheriff Barnett to complete his sentence. Comerford also has state's prison records, as has Kopikus and Edwards Lawrence, who, with a woman claiming to be Mrs. Grace Lawrence, his wife, are also under arrest at Marysville and Orville.

According to advices from Marysville the four have been engaged in a "short change" program carried on through interior towns. They are said to have admitted the accusations to J. R. Fahy and L. C. Gardner, postal inspectors. Among the jobs they are alleged to have done is the successful short changing on the postmaster at Durham. S. H. Morse, postoffice inspector at San Francisco, has sent warrants to Butte county for the return of the prisoners.

Chief of Police Nedderman today received a request from Kopikus asking that his suitcase containing his personal effects, which he left behind in his flight via the elevator, be sent to him.

"He hasn't got much coming from around here," said the chief. "At that, we would like to get him back."

SAYS RUSS WOULD RESIST JAPANESE

"Stubborn and bloody resistance to the occupation of Siberia by Japanese troops," is promised by Colonel Nicolai Alexandrovitch Lietsofsky of the Russian Railway Guards, who passed through San Francisco and Oakland yesterday on his way to Vladivostok, D. C. Being government dispatches. Colonel Lietsofsky said that he was sure that when there were beginning to be rumors of a Japanese invasion.

"Ten million pounds (thirty-six pounds per ton) of freest, including explosives and munitions, are at Vladivostok and Yankov," said Colonel Lietsofsky. "The radical elements in the city threaten to destroy Vladivostok and all that is left is to wait for the Japanese to fall into the hands of the Japanese. Feeling is strong there against the Japanese and I believe that the threat will undoubtedly be carried out if an invasion is attempted."

"This freight is in no danger of falling into the hands of the Germans, for there are not sufficient cars to transport it to European Russia, nor the labor to handle it. Nor would the railroad guards who control the Manchurian border, permit the trains to pass."

"Siberia will yet adjust itself, and a stable, reliable government will yet emerge, without the need of foreign interference. And the people of Siberia will resist with arms any invasion of their country."

Colonel Lietsofsky, who has served with the Trans-Baikal Cossacks on the Austrian front and has been thrice wounded and decorated with the second degree, Military Order of St. George, has been in charge of the Russian Railway Guards on the Trans-Siberian Railway from Irkutsk to Manchuria station since the first Russian revolution, and claims it is only through the devotion of his men, many of whom are half Mongolian and Burats, that the railroad has been able to operate at all.

"Siberia is not Northern Russia, and while we have the Bolshevik element manifesting itself in Vladivostok and other large cities they by no means control what government we have. Four divisions, numbering nearly 80,000 officers and men, of the Trans-Baikal Cossacks, are between Krasnodarsk and Vladivostok and while they are to a certain extent disorganized through lack of orders from the central command, any further movement on the sovereignty of Siberia would result in a thorough reorganization. We have the officers to take charge of such reorganization, while the men are sufficiently good soldiers and unacquainted with the Bolshevik virus to respond heartily."

To Probe Loss of the Cherokee Tug Reputed Unseaworthy Immediate Action Is Ordered

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Rear-Admiral Tappan, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, has begun an investigation into the sinking of the naval tug Cherokee on order from Washington. Twenty-nine members of the crew, including Junior Lieutenant Edward H. Newell, commander of the vessel, were lost when it foundered off the Maryland coast.

Lieutenant Newell's wife and Mrs. Elvira Martin, wife of A. A. Martin, a second-class petty officer, who was rescued from the sea after the tug was declared today that their husbands had repeatedly informed them that the Cherokee was unseaworthy.

OFFICERS PROTESTED. Many a time my husband told me the Cherokee wasn't safe," said Mrs. Newell. "He protested over and over again of the danger to his crew to the navy yard and in New York. He said the boat wasn't fit to go up and down the Delaware river."

Mrs. Martin gave out a letter from her husband, written yesterday, in which he reminded her of a prediction that the Cherokee would go to the bottom. Remember, I told you she would sink," Martin wrote.

Investigation by a naval board of the sinking of the tug was ordered today by Secretary Daniels. The secretary said he had called the attention of the board particularly to published reports that the Navy had been warned that the Cherokee was unseaworthy.

PASSED AS FIT. A board of investigation and appraisal, which examined the vessel when it was taken over by the Navy October 17, last, reported that her engines, boilers and hull were in fair condition and needed only minor repairs.

Secretary Daniels disclosed that the Cherokee, when she foundered on February 28, was en route to the Washington, D. C., navy yard to load guns and supplies for transportation to a Southern port. He issued this statement:

"The Navy Department will conduct a thorough investigation to determine the responsibility for the loss of the Cherokee and the conditions under which she was lost."

"I have called the attention of the board of inquiry to the statements published in a Philadelphia paper today, alleging that the vessel was unseaworthy, and have ordered them to investigate all the allegations made in that article."

"The board which surveyed the vessel, pronounced it satisfactory and recommended it for patrol duty for foreign service. The following report on the vessel has been made to me:

"The tug Cherokee, formerly the

GOMPERS PLEADS FOR EIGHT HOURS

CHICAGO, March 1.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made an appeal in behalf of an eight-hour day for employees in the meat-packing industry at the southwest side of the city.

He appeared as a witness for the employees and his testimony was eagerly listened to by "Mother" Mary Jones, an organizer for the United Mine Workers, and several hundred other representatives of organized labor from all sections of the country.

After tracing the history of the fight for a shorter working day he read from a number of reports and quoted various large employers of labor to substantiate his contention that the eight-hour day in actual operation had proved profitable to the employer and highly beneficial to the men.

In defining the attitude of organized labor toward the war the witness said: "Labor will make every sacrifice for the successful prosecution of the war, but it will not make any sacrifice for private profiteering during the war."

EIGHT-HOUR DAY ARGUMENT. "I advocate the eight-hour day on the ground of economy, health and morals. Men should only be required to work overtime in times of the greatest emergency or for the protection of life and property."

"That is why we demand time and a half for overtime and double pay for holidays. We think this penalty of added expense prevents the employer from asking their men to work overtime except when it is really necessary."

He declared that the saloon in the "back of the yard" district was an argument in favor of the shorter working day and higher wages. If the demands are granted by the packers the money spent by the stockyards employees in these drinking places will materially decrease.

He ridiculed the contention of witnesses for the packers for shorter hours and higher wages might increase saloon receipts.

He said experience in other industrial centers had proved the reverse. "It is the long hours with low wages that has made the packers' case," he said. "This is shown to be an economic truth. The fairly well-paid workman who is not required to work more than eight hours a day finds more pleasure and comfort at home or visiting a theater than he does in going to a saloon."

"I would not ask you, Mr. Arbitrator, to find for the eight-hour day in this dispute if I thought for a moment that it would hamper, hinder or interfere in any way with the winning of the war by a single day. I know it is physically impossible to decrease the production by shortening the hours of the basic working day."

IT WILL HELP WIN WAR. "The eight-hour day will help win the war by increasing production and mobilizing the good will of the working men of America. Heaven knows this needs to be done. Unwilling employers, I find, are acent the requests of their men for shorter hours and higher wages without raising objections."

"I have a way of thinking in their own language. They get in a mental rut from long practice. They want to convert their employees without any success. They convert their employees as to the number of hours to be worked and the wages to be paid."

Edgar L. Loeblach, was taken over at New York, about October 17, 1917, from the Loeblach Steamship Company, and was sent to the New York navy yard to fit out for distant service.

"She was an iron sea-going tug, built in 1881, gross tonnage 772, 120 feet, 20 inches long, fourteen feet draft, cruising speed, ten knots; radius of action 2651 miles. She was commissioned at the navy yard in New York on December 5, 1917."

"The report of the survey board which was taken over by the navy yard at New York, recommended her for patrol duty for foreign service; stated that the condition of her boilers and main engines was good, and that the condition of her hull, plating, innards, bulkheads, etc., was fair, and that a few minor repairs to the latter were necessary."

Live up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel, because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced, just take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone, stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly reliable, therefore harmless and can not sicken. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Advertisement.

PERSHING SENDS CASUALTY LIST

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The longest list of casualties in action yet received from General Pershing was announced by the war department last night. In all he reported twelve deaths, twenty men severely wounded and one man slightly wounded.

The list of action casualties shows four deaths, twenty severely injured and one slightly wounded. There also were three deaths from accidents and four deaths from disease.

Eighteen of the severely wounded were victims of German attacks on February 26 and two on February 25. The only slightly wounded received his injuries on February 25.

Three deaths were due to gas attacks.

The list follows:
KILLED IN ACTION—Private Helmer E. Rival, infantry, Harlan, Ia.; KILLED—Lt. C. A. Lewis, 1st Co., E. Gallows, trench mortar battery, Fairmont, N. C.; Joseph A. Shoemaker, trench mortar battery, Bristol, Pa.; Sid Coleman, infantry, Cord Art.

KILLED IN ACCIDENTS—Privates Henry V. Juhala, quartermaster corps, automobile accident, Gladstone, Mich.; James P. Jackson, stevedores, Savannah, Ga.; Ralph C. Eard, infantry, fractured skull, Lowell, Mass.

SEVERELY WOUNDED—Clude S. Batts, trench mortar battery, Elizabeth, N. J.; Casper M. Heckmeyer, field artillery, St. Louis, Mo.; Edward J. Beckwith, trench mortar battery, Morocco, Ind.; Jacob Anger, Louisville, Ky.; Robert M. Batty, Hammond, Ind.; Frank P. Mahoney, Muncie, Ind.; Alvin M. Masterson, Rochester, Ind.; Schuyler C. Mowrer, Monticello, Ind.; William O. Connell, Cambridge, Mass.; David E. Plunkett, Irvington, N. J.; John Brown Waggoner, Muncie, Ind.; Emile M. Cole, Manchester, N. H.; Walter J. Dauni, West Orange, N. J.; Marvin P. Dunn, Anderson, Ind.; William J. Fagan, Madison, Pa.; Adonis W. Jones, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Joseph Golden, New York; James W. Griffin, Livingston, Ky.; Chester C. Harris, Alban, N. Y.; Glen L. Van Sice, Vavert, N. Y.

DIED OF DISEASE—William R. Coleman, engineers, pneumonia, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Charles Harris, engineers' service battalion, pneumonia, Superior, W. Va.; Alex. R. Brownbridge, machine gun battalion, pneumonia, Gooding, Idaho; William C. Gilbert, infantry, tuberculosis, Potomac, Mont.

Although General Pershing's cable report gave only the explanation "severely wounded," it is the general belief at the war department that the eighteen men reported as severely wounded in action on February 26 were victims of the German gas attack on that date.

BRYAN IS HOOTED, TRIES TO SPEAK

TORONTO, March 1.—When Bryan was refused a hearing when he appeared at Massey Hall here last night to address a prohibition meeting under the auspices of the Dominion Alliance. Returned soldiers caused a disturbance or shouting various epithets. "What about the Lusitania?" they also demanded in chorus.

When Bryan came in pandemonium broke loose. Most of the audience stood up, waved handkerchiefs and cheered him, but the answering hoots from the gallery outlasted the cheers.

For five minutes Bryan tried to make himself heard. The interruption kept right on and the interrupters sang "Rule Britannia," forcing the audience to join in that and "God Save the King."

They inquired about the Lusitania, and sang "Over There" and "We Won't Go Home Until Morning." Men stood up and shook their fists at the American secretary of state. Soldiers showed the service button on their coats and shouted defiance at those who pleaded for a hearing for the visitor.

A man of the army medical corps dressed in uniform was hoisted on the platform.

"Boys, they are fighting for freedom at the front, they are also fighting for freedom of thought. Why should we interrupt the meeting?" he appealed to the gallery.

The appeal was in vain. "God Save the King" was sung again, and the soldiers in the gallery shouted "Take Bryan out, and we will walk out. We'll let any man speak, but not a pro-German." Bryan made a brief but futile attempt to make himself heard. He then talked to the reporters.

"I am here by invitation," said Bryan, "of some of the representative of 25,000,000 of the American people who have banded themselves together in various organizations for the promotion of prohibition. I have spoken in one hall tonight before an audience that gave me not only respectful but enthusiastic attention."

"My patriotism is satisfactory to the President of the United States, it is satisfactory to the Cabinet of the United States; it is satisfactory to the Congress of the United States. There is not a single person in the United States who can say that one drop of blood in my veins is not loyal to my country."

PIONEER IS DEAD

Mrs. Maria Richardson aged nearly 80 years, widow of Oakland's first regular police officer, died yesterday in Fresno at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mahel Malter.

Mrs. Richardson was a pioneer, having lived in Oakland since 1854. She is survived by a son, Louis E. Richardson, an employee of the Department of Public Works of Oakland, and a daughter, Mrs. Malter of Fresno and several grandchildren and great grandchildren. She was an aunt of Deputy City Clerk Frank C. Merritt.

Old residents of Oakland will recall that on October 22, 1860, Police Officer Richard B. Richardson, husband of the deceased, was called upon to serve ejectment papers on a negro named Thomas who had squatted on a large tract of land in the vicinity of 8th and Castro streets. While in the performance of his duty, Officer Richardson was shot and killed in ambush by the negro. The murderer was confined in the county jail at San Leandro, which was then the county seat. While awaiting trial he committed suicide.

MEASLE GERMS IN JURY ROOM

Measle germs have no horror for the men and women on the jury in Superior Judge Quinn's department trying the case of Manuel Ferreira charged with a statutory offense, and the case is proceeding in spite of the fact that the children of Mrs. Nellie Farley, one of the jurors, are in bed at home with them. Judge Quinn's suggestion that Mrs. Farley refrain from coming to the court wearing the same clothes as were worn in the sick room sufficed to drive out the dread.

But Louise Rudolph, clerk of the court, put it up to the judge that there would be no precedent to guide them if when the jury is locked in the jury room to deliberate on a verdict the measles should appear and they should all break out!

NEUSTADT'S DEATH

Following a brief illness, Professor Eugene Neustadt, for twenty years head of the Modern Language Department of the George Watson College, Edinburgh, Scotland, and a resident of Oakland for the past nine years, died this morning at his home, 72 Elmton Place. Professor Neustadt was a native of Germany, aged 62 years. He was the husband of the late Sophie Neustadt Neustadt, a famous singer.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 11:30 at the family home. Professor Neustadt came here after having retired from the European college and took a prominent part in the work of local educational organizations. He was famous as an authority on teaching methods.

There was no precedent to guide them if when the jury is locked in the jury room to deliberate on a verdict the measles should appear and they should all break out!

SHEEP MAN IS SLAIN BY HIS SPOUSE

LAKEVIEW, Ore., March 1.—E. O. Lamb, a retired sheep owner of Paisley, Ore., was shot and killed by his wife, Bertha, supposedly following a quarrel.

Full particulars from the coroner's inquest are not yet available, but it is understood that Mrs. Lamb's testimony was to the effect that her husband was in the act of attacking her with a stick of wood, and she shot him in self-defense.

The weapon used was a carbine rifle with soft-nosed bullets. One shot was fired and this struck him squarely on the bridge of the nose, literally blowing his head to pieces.

Mrs. Lamb is expected to arrive here in the custody of Sheriff Snider, who immediately left in company with the coroner for the scene of the crime on being notified.

Lamb was about 50 years old, and had been married but a short time.

PREDICT LOWER PRICE FOR COAL

A reduction in the retail price of both anthracite and bituminous coal is expected by the United States fuel administration as the result of its decision to make prices to coal dealers the same whether sold direct by the operators or through the jobbers, Albert E. Schwabacher, fuel administrator for California, announced today. Under this method the jobber's commission of from 15 to 30 cents a ton, which he has heretofore been allowed to add to the government price at the mine, is practically eliminated.

Under the new plan the price at the mine will be increased slightly, but the jobber will be forced to look to the operator for his commission, and it is believed the retailer will be able to make more cheaply than before.

The fuel administration is now working on the amount of this increase at the mines, and the new price scale will be announced before April 1, when it will go into effect.

Schwabacher announced today that it was his intention to bring to the attention of the public from time to time a number of fuel conservation measures vitally necessary to the nation at war. Among the measures mentioned are:

The use of good and other substitutes for coal and oil; the need of enlisting labor for the mines; the need of speeding up transportation and the emptying of coal cars; the problem of anti-hoarding and early supply; and the necessity for fuel conservation in the home.

Revelations of a Wife

by Adele Garrison

A GEM OF A MAID.

The maid whom I had liked so well at first sight held her single reference out to me with pride shining in her eyes. I took it and drew from the envelope a sheet of newspaper whose appearance betokened the belongings of a wellbred woman. I unfolded it and read:

"The bearer of this, Katie Silinsky, has been in my employ as general house worker for a year. She leaves me only because I am compelled to go South on account of illness. She is a good cook, laundress and general worker, neat, strictly honest, willing and obliging. For a mistress who can understand her temperamental she will make a most valuable maid."

"SARAH S. CLARKE.

"The Aberdeen, Tuesday, Jan. 12."

I could read between the lines of this letter I had dealt with many girls of Katie's type in my teaching days. I knew the childish temper, the irritating curiosity, the petty jealousy, the familiarity which one not understanding would deem impertinence with which I would have to contend if I engaged her. But the two other applicants for my post whom I had seen, the half-drunken village of yesterday, and the grim vision of today, decided me. I would try this eager girl if her terms were reasonable.

"What wages do you wish?"

"Twenty-five dollars a month." Then she looked at me shyly.

"Perhaps, if I suit you, you give me $25?"

"Perhaps," I returned non-committally. "You wish every other Sunday and Thursday off, I suppose."

"Oh! yes, misses, if you please, miss."

"When can you come?"

She laughed gleefully, displaying a set of beautiful white teeth.

"Right now, this mornin'! See, I brought my work dress, my apron, my cap, right here." She lifted a bundle wrapped in paper which I had seen in her lap.

"You like me to wear cap?" I looked nice in cap." She smiled coquettishly.

"Of course," I answered. "And I will give you a trial for a week. You may come out into the kitchen now, and I will show you where things are, and tell you about dinner."

As I preceded her into the kitchen I had a sudden qualm. I knew Katie's fastidious taste, and that underneath all his good-natured unconventionality he had rigid ideas of his own upon some things. I happened to remember that nothing made him so nervous and irritable as bad service in a restaurant. His idea of a good waiter was a well-trained automaton with no eyes or ears. How would he like this enthusiastic, irrepressible girl? It was too late now, however. I was committed to a week of her service.

As we entered the kitchen I was again glad that before I left the night before I had put everything in order. I had been tempted to leave it in disorder when Katie had come, but my natural methodical self had triumphed over my emotions. I would have been twice humiliated if I had yielded to the impulse to leave everything. Katie had scrutinized it in the morning when my headache was so bad I could not see, and now my new maid was looking it over critically.

"Nice kitchen," she said smilingly.

"Yes, and I hope you will keep it looking nice."

Her face clouded a little.

"I always keep my kitchen nice," she said seriously. "I had read your notice. I saw that she would be like a child in her resentment of criticism or suggestions."

"Here are all your cooking utensils," I said. Her face was a blank as she looked at them.

"Things to cook with," I explained. I might as well get into the vernacular first as last. I reflected grimly.

"Oh! yes, missus—what your name? I forgot what the letter said."

"Graham, Mrs. Graham," I replied.

"Please call me that."

"Oh! yes, Miss Graham. I find 'em all. You just say, Katie, here kitchen, here cooking things, here dishes, here dining room, here meat, here a-ta-blessed to cook, I find everything I fix if I no find, I ask."

Her enthusiasm was grateful, but her manner held something of shooing me out of my own kitchen. She was evidently a most energetic person. She had undone a bundle while we were talking, and produced a very neat and clean gingham working dress, a gingham work apron and a white apron and cap.

"See, Miss Graham, I put on first my dress, then my white apron and cap. Then my gingham apron over all. If door bell ring I switch off apron and cap, then parlor maid. Put on apron, kitchen maid. Where I change?" She laughed gaily.

"Right here," I opened the door of an unused closet. "You may keep your things here. I shall want you to sleep at home, have no room here out, yes, if you have no room. But I no like to I think you nice lady. I like be all time in your house. Maybe after while you get bigger flat, room for me?"

"Perhaps," I answered, smiling. She was really irresistible.

"What you want for dinner? Are things here?"

"No, I shall have to order them. I did not see the marketman this morning, for I was ill. We will have a small pot roast of beef, a few green beans, potatoes with a horseradish sauce, potatoes cooked with the meat, some spinach, not creamed, simply chopped, with plenty of butter and seasoning, and a lettuce and green pepper salad. Mr. Graham will make the dressing at the table."

"What for the dessert?"

"No dessert tonight. Just cheese and coffee. You do not want too much to do your first dinner. I will telephone for the things now. I turned away.

But she called me back.

"No telephone. Wait. Where the market? I go get. Those grocermen, they cheat when you telephone, no give nice things, charge so-o much."

Right then I decided to keep Katie if Katie could possibly stand it. Perhaps I could tone her down. I had heard so much of the lazy, uninterested, extravagant maids with which some of my friends had been obliged to contend that Katie's enthusiastic interest charmed me.

SUSPECT MURDER WILL REFER CASE

DENVER, Col., March 1.—What police believe to be a cold-blooded murder was disclosed this morning when the body of James H. Houf, boiler man of the New Western hotel, was found burned in the furnace. The body had been thrust into the firebox shortly before its discovery, and fresh coal shoveled on it in an effort to completely incinerate the remains.

No motive for the crime is known. Houf had been in Denver only a few months, coming here from the East.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

If it is true that Japan is ready to take an active part in the war with a view to protecting allied interests against a German attack through Pacific Russia, but is waiting for the approval of the United States, Washington ought to give the word to go ahead immediately. It is reported that England, France and Italy are not only willing, but anxious for Japan to take charge of the Bolshevik situation in the Far East. There is not the slightest excuse for any other attitude and to act quickly in this instance is to insure success.

The first object of the Japanese armies, should it be determined to employ them to protect the Asiatic littoral of the Pacific, as well as to prevent a basis for launching attacks against allied shipping in the Pacific ocean, would be the occupation of Vladivostok. Great quantities of military supplies have been assembled there. They have been sent from the United States and from Japan. They were destined for the provisional government of Russia before pro-German activities put Lenin and Trotsky in control. Under the present regime in Petrograd this material will not be used in one half of the Russian people; it will find its way to Germany and be employed against the United States and the other nations of the allied coalition. It should not be permitted to leave Vladivostok except under conditions that will absolutely insure that it will be devoted to the defeat of Germany.

If Japan occupies Vladivostok she certainly will take over the control of the transiberian railway as far as Harbin. At the latter point Chinese and Japanese soldiers are already in command of the situation. The other Pacific feeder to the Transiberian railroad, the Manchurian line running to Dairen and Port Arthur, is already controlled by Japan and China. Such a move would put the allies in control of all the ocean terminals of the rail connection between Petrograd and the Pacific, and over a large section of territory extending from Vladivostok practically to Lake Baikal. This would be accomplished without the actual occupation of much land now considered within Russian boundaries.

The allies are obligated to take some such step, as much to preserve the interests of the Russian people as to protect their Pacific lines. The situation has reached the critical stage. Once the Prussian military masters take charge in Petrograd, as they momentarily are expected to do, this area will become an inviting field for their next move. The allies will commit a serious blunder if they leave the enemy such an opportunity.

Japan will have to initiate action for her own protection and on her own account if the German threat in Asiatic Russia becomes any more ominous. Manchuria, Korea and Japan should not fail to guard against a fate similar to Belgium; the allies of China and Japan should not hesitate to cooperate with them in measures for their defense.

With Vladivostok and Harbin under effective allied control the task of moving a Japanese army to the German front in west Russia, if that should be undertaken, would be very much simplified. The forces could be assembled all along the line from Vladivostok to Harbin, instead of at these points only.

HIGHER BOND RATE.

A member of the House said a few days ago that he had "inside" information that the next Liberty Loan would bear interest at the rate of 4 1/2 percent. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has not yet spoken the final word, but all indications are that the congressman was correctly advised.

Under the law authorizing the loan issue, the Treasury Department has the discretion of raising the rate of interest to 4 1/2 percent or putting out the next loan at a lower rate. Mr. McAdoo is now offering to subscription short term certificates of indebtedness in blocks of $500,000,000 each every two weeks and proposes to continue this method until $2,000,000,000 have been subscribed to for conversion into the next Liberty Loan.

The first offering went through without much difficulty, although it required some special efforts in the financial centers. Observation of the results is said to have decided Mr. McAdoo to raise the interest rate of the coming loan one-half percent. If a 4 1/2 percent rate is fixed it will apply to all the bonds of the existing issues, as well as to the third one to be announced.

This decision to increase the rate of interest has been expected. It was the implication given in announcing the first two issues that a higher rate would ultimately prevail that helped to make the first issues popular and to cause holders to refrain from putting their securities on the bond market. With reference to this question, the New York Journal of Commerce editorially makes the following pointed comment:

"It is a question whether the effort to place loans certain to draw so heavily upon the financial resources of the country, at such low rates, was justified as a matter of policy. A strong appeal to patriotic sentiment, as well as strenuous efforts on the part of banking institutions, carried the first loan through, but the bonds could be sustained at par only by being convertible for new ones at a higher rate. Now another advance has been found necessary, and it is not at all certain that these war issues, even with the attractive title of Liberty Bonds, will not yet have to be placed on a 5 percent basis, which is the lowest already for the credit of any European nation. It may have been well to appeal to patriotic sentiment and work up gradually to a real credit market rate, but that was bound to become necessary at a time when there was such a demand for capital for various profitable uses. There is no doubt about the solid basis of government credit, but there is a limit to the amount to be raised upon it at the lowest kind of a rate."

PROTECTION FOR THE SOLDIER.

Approval of the action of Congress in enacting a law protecting the soldier and sailor against foreclosure on pledges that may have been given for debt will be almost unanimous. The so-called moratorium is only for the period of absence from business and his home by reason of the performance of military duties during the war. It is based on the theory that a man called to the colors and normally not permitted to earn any income above that meagre sum that constitutes his pay should be protected by the government against injury through action of the government in forcibly rendering it impossible to fulfill financial obligations contracted in peace time and without foreknowledge of what the government intended to do.

Briefly, the soldier and sailor relief bill suspends the life of mortgages, notes and pledges during the period the military man is away on service. When he returns home these obligations will resume just where they left off. It will be practically the same in effect as a continuous legal holiday on legal financial transactions. The acute need for such legislation will be readily recognized. During discussion in the Senate, Mr. Overman submitted an abstract of typical letters received from the several military cantonments, as follows:

Camp Gordon: Purchased a lot on installments. Can't pay anything on it now because his pay goes all to his mother. Feels he will lose his title.

Camp Grant: Owes $250 on a mortgage, payable $10 a week, is threatened with foreclosure, thus losing my entire life savings of 11 years sunk in the business.

Camp Funston: Homestead claim; hopes that I will be protected.

Camp Funston: Bought a 200-acre tract on installments and can not make payments now. "It looks to me as though all the soldiers serving their country should be given at least as much time after the war to meet their obligations as they had at the time of their enlistment. It looks only fair that those who stay at home should not be allowed to take their property away from them on account of their serving in the army."

Camp McClellan: Supports aged parents and motherless children by paying their rent. Landlord summoned mother to court for $45 rent unpaid and threatened eviction; they will soon be put out, and his children go to an orphan asylum. He can only send $20 a month. Landlord is wealthy. The soldier wants a discharge. "Our great United States stands for everything I love, but my parental love means more."

Camp Sherman: Owes $1000 on his house; $230 now due to bank, and doesn't know what he can do to save his home.

Fort Harrison: Has a homestead claim, which will be ruined if a road is put through it as now threatened by commissioners; can not be there nor pay lawyer to save his rights.

Camp Lewis: Payment due on 160 acres adjoining homestead, and he can not meet it. "A soldier should not be foreclosed, while he is doing his bit; it gives the land sharks too good a chance. A law to this effect would benefit a great number of soldiers here."

Camp Lewis: Owes on life insurance policies, mortgages, and four personal notes, all due between January and December, 1918; has only a private's pay, now that he is in the army. "The whole of America to blame for this situation for these cases will mean the undue sacrifice of my property, and many others."

From the above it is apparent that the "moratorium" will be of general benefit as well as providing specific protection to the men in their country's service. General foreclosure on all the contractual obligations carried by men among the more than two million in the army and navy would cause a serious disturbance in the business and financial life of the country, that would become more serious when the men returned home to find their circumstances changed for the worst. The protective legislation provides that agreed interest may be collected on debts, mortgages, etc., which extends relief also for those who may be dependent upon this feature of business.

The people at home would not have the government fail in guaranteeing justice to the men in the fighting ranks and the situation has been met promptly and with apparent effectiveness.

A student at the State university has been arrested and has admitted that he engaged in the dissemination of anarchistic propaganda. Probably the placards for "academic freedom" will protest this action by the federal authorities as a high-handed invasion of their rights.

Reports that Austria balks at any feature of the military campaigns of Germany must be taken with reservation. They are of the quality of the rumors of strikes, mutinies and popular dissatisfaction within the Teutonic alliance. All these, it must be borne in mind, are made in Germany.

NOTES and COMMENT

It sometimes seems that an excess of solicitude is manifest for the neutral within our gates. A law is in preparation to exempt from military service those who have only taken out their first papers. Really, why such a law?

Airplane mail service impends. A line of clipper airplanes is to inaugurate sailings between Washington and New York April 15. And there are men still living, probably, who can remember the remarkable feat of the elder Bennett, in beating all rivals between these places with relay messengers on horseback.

Senator Lodge says that price-fixing has not stopped price-profiteering. Well, there are other remedies. Some of them may not be so pleasant to those who have to be treated, but they may be more effective.

The sensational duck foray is declared by one of its victims to be a plot. As the victim is not one who is at all given to disrespect for law, it will be interesting to see how the matter threshes out.

Maybe it has escaped the general observation that the name of Texas governor is Hobbs. Considering some things, legislative and other, that have come to pass in Texas, its Governor is appropriately named.

It reads like an account of former rabbit drives—when they shoed swarms of rabbits into an enclosure and then went at them with clubs—these accounts of the melting away of the Bolshevik forces before the advance of the Huns.

In almost every newspaper is an account of the arrest of an enemy performer, who does or says things that are not consistent with loyalty; and that is generally the last that we hear of it. The supposition is that if anything is done with or to the culprit, he has simply been sequestered comfortably, there to rest till it blows over.

The fear that the war lunch will prove digestively disastrous is not justified. The war lunch is not generally such a gorge that it is in danger of throwing the stomach out of gear.

Now we have some idea why bacon is 55 cents a pound. Federal Food Commissioner Merritt explains that he has no power to fix the price of pork. But curiosity goes on and exercises itself with the problem why the limitation was fixed at the pork line.

Directions to the office boy, from the Santa Ana Blade: "Be careful, Eddie, in fling away that out of J. O. Hayes, gubernatorial candidate, and do not get it mixed up with the Democratic ticket of that miscreant appendage. All men are not wild who wear whiskers."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The only people conspicuous by their absence at the May Wah funeral procession were the members of the Hip Sing tong, one of whom was overheard to say when asked why he wasn't there, "What? flip go to Hop funeral? Get head blowed off? Me no likee."—San Jose Mercury.

High costs are threatening the newspapers from one end of the country to the other, and New York dailies as well as those in other cities are meeting the increased cost of production with advances in subscription and advertising rates. "Perhaps no one line of business has suffered more from advancing costs than that of publishing a newspaper. Prior paper, local news service, telegraph news service, ink, wages, distribution, all cost more than formerly, and in some instances the increase is very heavy."—Bakersfield Echo.

William Van Hooser has many troubles. The latest complaint to be filed against him with the Railroad Commission is that of Anna Silva of Niles, who owns a house in Castro Valley that Van Hooser had been supplying with water. Van Hooser had removed a pipe line leading to the Silva house. The complaint says that the commission previously ordered Van Hooser to continue supplying water to certain persons living in Castro Valley, although he had asked for authority to discontinue his water utility business.—Hayward Journal.

A fellow in San Francisco, fined for violating the law that forbids an employer to appropriate tips given his employees, is going to make a test case of it. We hope he does. Certainly no court but will sustain the law. The average man who travels cheerfully passes out a tip to the boy or girl who checks his hat or coat. But he seriously objects to having that tip passed on to an able-bodied employee. The law in question was framed by W. W. Harris of this city and it is a good law in intent.—Palo Alto Californian.

WHEN OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG.

The fiddler played his merriest tune. The tall moon hung in a gay sky. The night-air sweet as fragrant June. When we danced together, my love and I.

That quaint Money-Musa the fiddler played. With never a break in the jolly old tune: "Only 'I love you' the glad notes said. As we gaily danced 'neath the silvering moon."

Oh, to live over the days when the covers beat to the hush of the bed. When maidens' fancies and sweet girl's glances silvered each moment for me.

And still in the joyous nights of June That round moon swings through a cloudless sky.

And, sweet as the strains of that dear old tune, We hold our memories—yon and I. CLAUDE THAYER.

The Editor of The Tribune disclaims responsibility for opinions and statements expressed in this column. Brief contributions on current topics of general interest are welcome. They will not be as a rule printed unless recommended by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

It is our hope that the controversy over the fish question published in The TRIBUNE, between Mrs. Cleverdon and Mr. Weinstein, has been called to the attention of Ralph W. Merritt.

In the humble opinion of the writer, it is high time that the Federal government took the situation in hand. The Stamese Twins, Paladini, as the writer has heard, need separating, if the public expect fish at a reasonable price; for when fish prices equal, and are even above the prices of the choicest meat cuts, the time for action is in sight.

Let the government fix a maximum price on fish. This will hold the fish trust, and will automatically free Mr. Weinstein for other fields of usefulness. Mr. Paladini seems quite capable of taking care of himself, but when it comes to fish prices, we would prefer to have a federal official in charge, as he would also have

GIRL CHAINED IN HOUSE BY HER CAPTOR

NEW YORK, March 1.—Tied up with lead, and chained with leath if she attempted to escape, Miss Elizabeth Neil, 19, more dead than alive, was rescued from a Brooklyn residence today by Mrs. Ellen O'Grady, fifth deputy police commissioner, and Detective Carroll. Miss O'Grady characterized the girl's story as the most horrible she had ever heard.

Anthony Abruzzo, 27, was arrested in Miss Neil's alleged abductor. For two weeks, according to Miss Neil's story, he held her virtually as a slave, keeping her chained up like a dog
by day.

Miss Neil disappeared from her home two weeks ago. She and Abruzzo were traced to Bridgeport,
Conn., but there the crew was lost.
Last night Mrs. O'Grady received word that Miss Neil was a prisoner at the Brooklyn residence.

arrested by Bohn the rancher is alleged given a hearing before U. S. Commis-

Free Market Plan Is Endorsed Civic Workers Will Cooperate

By HARRY L. SULZY.

The Alameda County Civic Association, comprising representatives of more than a score of civic and improvement organizations in all parts of Oakland, last night endorsed the municipal market plan and instructed its city planning committee to work for the establishment of a municipal market in Oakland and to cooperate with the Oakland TRIBUNE in finding ways and means to accomplish this end.

The city planning committee, to which the market matter was referred, is composed of R. M. Henningsen, former harbor engineer of the city and consulting engineer of Alameda Bros., E. C. Kayser, former chairman of the market committee of the association, and Walter Frick-stad, formerly assistant city engineer and superintendent of streets.

The old city market committee, which brought in a report favoring the establishment of a municipal market several years ago had not been continued, and the association referred the work of cooperating with the Oakland Board of Market Directors and the TRIBUNE to the recently appointed city planning committee.

WILL CONSIDER WAYS.
A meeting of the committee will be held in a few days to consider ways and means of working with the Board of Market Directors to back up the movement to bring a market into existence.

The market plan is now under consideration by the Alameda County
Civic Association, the Downtown Propertyowners' Association, the Alameda county women's committee of the State and National Councils of Defense, the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs and Parent-Teachers' associations, the Public Ownership League of the east bay cities and several other organizations. Committees have been appointed by these organizations and a movement is on foot to bring about a conference of the delegates from the civic and improvement bodies of the city.

Commissioner W. H. Edwards, chairman of the fish committee, has also given his endorsement to the market plan, declaring that he would favor coordinating the fish market and municipal market plans, as the two are phases of the same problem.

NEED FOR CITY MARKET.

In discussing the grave need for a public market in Oakland, Chairman Henningsen of the city planning committee said:
"This problem has been solved in other cities and can be solved here if the people will study the situation and give their support to a proper plan of procedure. I am familiar with what has been done in Seattle in this regard, having lived in that city. The municipal market there is a wonderful success, and could be made so here.

"The men who established the market in Seattle and who have made it a success were not 'rainbow chasers', but sane and determined citizens, ready to give their time and thought to the public betterment, and to work to reduce the high cost of food supplies. All we need is the same determination and the same readiness to get together and work the problem out here to win success."

SUCCESS IS PROVED.
"Markets owned and conducted by cities have been a splendid success in Scotland, England, France, Belgium,
Holland, Austria, Germany, Australia,
New Zealand and other countries and

2 CALIFORNIA UNITS ARRIVE IN WAR ZONE

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The navy base hospital unit, composed principally of physicians, nurses and enlisted personnel enrolled in the naval reserve force from Leland Stanford Jr. University, has reached the war zone, Secretary Daniels today announced.

The hospital, which has a capacity of 600 men, will take care of the personnel ashore and afloat, and if necessary will be available for army and allied sick and wounded.

BERKELEY, March 1.—A cablegram has been received announcing the safe arrival in France of Naval Base Hospital No. 2, in which a number of Berkeleysians enlisted. The unit consists of fifty nurses and ten physicians. Miss Lucile Matignon, daughter of Mrs. E. V. Matignon, 2232
Blake street, and Miss Minnie Brown, who has a business on Shattuck avenue, were among those of this city who are nurses in the unit. Miss Brown left her business in the hands of her sister, Mrs. C. Bell. Mrs. Matignon has four children, two sons and two daughters in the service.

CIVIC BODY HEARS TALE OF DREDGER

All is peaceful today in the dredger dispute between Commissioner Fred
L. Morse and the civic association.
Morse's appearance before the organization of improvement clubs last night resulted in a lively argument, several "surprises" and finally a vote thanking the official for appearing.

The "mysterious envelope" of President W. A. Knowles, which, at a previous meeting, he declared Morse was afraid to show him open, proved one of the "surprises." Morse had set a figure slightly over 7 cents as the average cost per cubic yard for operating the dredger. "I am surprised," said Knowles, "at your lack of information regarding your own department. I have taken the figures on the total cost of the dredger from the auditor's records. The total cost is charged up at $382,958.74.
Divide this by the total yardage removed by the dredger, and the cost is 16 and 78-100 cents."

Morse explained in detail the operation of the municipal dredger since he took charge of the department of public works, declaring that his plan for having repairs made by its crew had saved the city money. Questioned regarding the story that Chairman Knowles had attempted to lease the dredger from the city while acting on an investigation committee for the association, Morse said:

"Mr. Knowles came repeatedly to me discussing the dredger. He suggested that we advertise for a bidder on the dredging work and said that he represented interests willing to put in a bid and take such a contract, say for three or four million cubic yards.
When I sought a statement as to whom he represented he was evasive —in fact, told me it was none of my business. But I figured that if he could run the dredger at a profit the city could save that money."

Morse declared that it was not indicated to him that any of the officers of the association were interested in the lease.

The dredger deal is to be taken up in the executive committee, according to Dr. Carl Walliser. When the matter came up Dr. Walliser asked that as Knowles was concerned in the investigation some one else be placed in the chair, but the other members held that the affair was not an official investigation.

The advisory bond committee report was aired with the reading of a letter from the committee answering the association's rebuke in the recent architectural embargo and holding that the committee should be left to its own devices.

"The committee's action," declared Thomas Marshall, "is practically a defiance of this body, which appointed and which controls it. I move we reconsider its fitness to serve."

"I asked Mr. Graham," declared Knowles, "if the committee would be able to work in harmony if Mr. Werum were removed. He answered that it would."

Chairman Knowles then referred the matter to the executive committee to report at the next meeting, over the protest of Marshall and others who desired action in the general body. The association's constitution gives the president this right.
Commissioner Morse was assured by the chairman that during the dredger investigations "no criticism had been directed toward the commissioner."

STRIKE IS DELAYED

VICTORIA, B. C., March 1.—By a vote of 38 to 27, the Victoria Metal Trades Council decided to defer action in the wage dispute with the imperial munitions board. The shipyard strike that was set for today throughout British Columbia has therefore been cancelled to await proceedings of the adjustment board appointed by Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor.

VRANGUL, Alaska, March 1.—
Race warfare is threatened here as the result of the government ruling that enemy alien fishermen may be imposed for work in Alaska waters this season. Strong resolutions are on the table, adopted at a mass meet-who declare the importation of for-

to the fishing industry but an affront to local American citizens.

Biggest Baseball Meeting Ever Held Around Bay Will Start Off the Season

More Than Forty Clubs Invited to Send Representatives Here Tonight

By CARL E. BRAZIER.

Tonight is the night of the big baseball meeting at the Maxwell Hardware Company clubrooms at 1320 Washington street. Eight o'clock is the time for the meeting, and if only half of those who have promised to be there are on hand, it will be about the biggest meeting of its kind ever held around the bay. Representatives of more than forty baseball clubs in northern and central California have been invited to the meeting in personal letters or visits from the sporting editor of The TRIBUNE. In addition the word has gone out that the meeting is open to everybody interested in the formation of independent summer baseball leagues, and it is hoped that nobody who has not been personally invited will feel that he is not welcome.

Tonight's meeting was proposed by The TRIBUNE with the idea of getting early action towards definite organization of summer leagues. A good part of the success of the recent Mid-winter league was due to the fact that organization was started early enough so that the work did not have to be rushed through. Tonight the question of summer leagues will be brought up and The TRIBUNE'S suggestion will be considered for several leagues working in harmony and with some kind of a central body in which each league is represented.

GREAT SEASON FOR BASEBALL.

The Tribune has been doing its best to get the ball for the meeting gives promise of the most successful season that independent baseball ever enjoyed on the coast, and it is no exaggeration to say that a birdseye view of northern and central California at this time shows at least ten distinct independent leagues as very logical possibilities for the coming summer. More than fifty clubs outside of Oakland are already mentioned as possibilities for the coming summer--of course all of these will not materialize, but the interest that has been stirred up shows which way the wind is blowing.

Local baseball fans will have at least four leagues in which local players will figure if the tentative plans go through as outlined from discussions with those interested in the various teams. The Class B teams of the winter league are anxious to continue in a summer league and there will be plenty of material for a complete Oakland city league made up of amateur teams. In addition there would be three outside leagues in which local teams would be entered as road teams--the Alameda County League, the Contra Costa County League, and the Sonoma-Marin league.

HOW THE LEAGUES MAY LINE-UP.

Following is a suggestion of a possible line-up of ten independent summer leagues as it looks to one who has discussed baseball possibilities with representatives from the various sections; of course some of the clubs in this list will probably not come through and there will be mergers of some of the leagues as proposed here, but on the strength of the way baseball interest is being stirred up now, here is the list of possibilities; also it is the list of clubs which have been invited to send representatives to tonight's meeting:

Alameda County League--San Leandro, Newark, Hayward, Niles, and two road teams from Oakland (Ratto's Merchants and Fruitvale suggested). Centerville and Pleasanton may also figure in this league.

Contra Costa League--Pittsburg, Crockett, Richmond, Martinez, and two road teams from Oakland (Alameda and Oakland Natives suggested).

Sonoma-Marin League--Santa Rosa, San Rafael Petaluma, and Sebastopol, and two road teams from Oakland (Road teams will be picked from teams asking place in the league).

Oakland City League--Melrose Merchants, Allendale Merchants, Santa Fe Improvers, and other local amateur teams.

San Jose City League--Campbell Athletics and other teams in San Jose and immediate vicinity.

Stanislaus County League--Turlock, Crow's Landing, Newman, Modesto, Hughson, and Oakdale.

Bay Shipbuilders' League--Union Iron Works of Alameda, Union Iron Works of San Francisco, Moore, Hanlon, and Vallejo yards and other yards that are now organizing an athletic association.

Sacramento Valley Trolley League--Sacramento, Woodland, Chico, Marysville, Oroville, and Gridley or Colusa.

San Joaquin League--Stockton, Lodi, Merced, Agnews and other teams in that section.

Mission League--Santa Cruz, Monterey, Del Monte, Hollister, Watsonville, and Salinas.

At tonight's meeting the following proposals will be made to the representatives of the various clubs, as a foundation for them to work on.

1--Line up all the baseball clubs that propose to operate during the coming summer.

2--Segregate them into the best combinations for leagues with transportation as the first consideration.

3--Make such changes in the geographical segregation as may seem advisable from the point of view of rivalry of towns, equal strength of team, etc.

4--Let each league name one delegate to a central board of directors, who shall have a settlement of questions arising among the different leagues, this board also to make plans for post-season championship series, etc. This board to elect a president, vice-president and secretary, centrally located, to act on ordinary routine matters, so that distant members need be called upon for meetings or votes only in cases of unusual importance.

5--Each league to have its own distinct organization as far as its own affairs are concerned, this local league organization may have jurisdiction over all matters except players jumping to or from other leagues, umpires going from one league to another, conflict of date playing of postponed games in time to leave way for post-season series, and other matters in which more than one league is interested.

6--Leagues to agree as to salary of umpires, playing limits, eligibility of players, choice of official scorers, keeping of records, etc. Each club representative will know of some local problems that should be suggested as something for the other clubs to discuss with a view to having all the leagues take the same action on all matters.

7--All leagues to adopt playing schedules of the same length in order that all may finish at the same time and let the winning clubs start their championship schedule.

8--Each league to make arrangements so that after winning club starts on championship schedule, other clubs in league may continue play.

9--Let all leagues agree upon a uniform fee to be paid by each club as a guarantee that it will stick with the league. The suggestion has been made that these guarantee deposits be split up, part to go to a central purse for the post-season championship series, part to go to the winning club in each league, and part to go to the winner of a special series of the other clubs in each league after the winning club starts on the post-season series.

These are a few suggestions that will start the ball on the road to effort ve organization. This list of suggestions does not intend to cover all the points which demand a decision, but in the consideration of these others will be suggested and will be left under the time these suggestions are brought up and are considered along with others which will be suggested by these.

Don't forget that tonight's meeting is open to everybody interested in the organization of these summer leagues. There will be room enough for all the boys, but as far as possible it is hoped that the representatives will come with authority to act for their clubs in the consideration of any matter looking towards that should be suggested as something

ROLL AND CHRISTENSEN MAY LAND REGULAR OAK BERTHS

Recruits Are Howard's Big Infield Hopes

Shows Up Well in Practice Week; Start for Camp Sunday Morning.

Howard is going out to develop a big infield for the Alameda County High School Athletic League. With Calender and man, two recruits in camp, Howard has given them every chance possible to make good and yesterday he lined up a squad along with several other players in the practice week. Howard and the southpaws showed a lot of stuff. But the real sensation of the youngers was in the primary of Ralph, the local boy, who has been working in the short patch. If Croft could show the money for the spring, Howard will be sure to have a good infield. Howard has been shown talking of another Hollister, course Croft has not been up against Croft, but he is sure to be a good fairly well with the slick in the infield and should get away to a start.

STUMPF IS LOST.
Bill Stumpf's sale to Pittsburgh by the westerners is contested by Oakland. The chances are that Bill will stick with the Pirates for the spring, and whatever the contest is decided will merely settle the question of who gets the money for the sale. Stumpf is still a chance that Danny Murphy will be back, and also a chance that Oakes may beat the Seals to get a big infield. The San Jose recruit, Stumpf, is showing some good form.

CHRISTENSEN'S CHANCE.
There is plenty of hope in sight for the attention of third and short. Howard can keep up his present start in short patch, Howard may try to get Harvey Christensen, of the champions into a third sacker. Christensen has been a regular in line as a second baseman regular. If he can adapt himself to third base, there is a chance for him. Howard and landing a regular job. For Howard is little to worry about in his infield.

The outfield with Middleton and Miller back in line and with a promising bunch of recruits from which to pick, the situation seems likely to work itself out. And with Prough and Krause, and Goodred expected to be back, the outfield seems likely to be a strong one. The outfield situation seems likely to work itself out. And with Prough and Krause, and Goodred expected to be back, the outfield seems likely to be a strong one.

OFF TO CAMP SUNDAY.
Sunday the boys will start for the Springs training camp, but Del Howard and Calender will take the afternoon off and journey to Crockett to see the All-Stars play the champions. On Monday the real work of the camp will start and by the end of next week Howard should have a good line-up whether or not his youngsters will be ready to go to camp.

Fans who wish to get a look at some of the new recruits in the Oakland team this season, will have their chance tomorrow when the Young Oaks meet the Oakland Commercial club team on the Coast League grounds.

Del Howard will trot out his youngsters and give three or four games to young pitchers a chance to work against the Commercial club—Gene Calender and Ronald Coleman, left-handers, and McFarland, a right-hander. The report has it that the Young Oaks, who have shown up well in the workouts all week, will do the backing up with Calender, Croft and Short and Earl Perry at first. Howard has many young players to pick for the other positions.

SEALS TRANSFERRED.
The Seals are the property of Charles Graham. George Putnam, Thomas Stephens, Dr. Strub and their associates. The formal transfer of the papers has been made and Henry Berry's interest is now legally vested in the new owners. The new stockholders will probably get together today for an organizational meeting and Dr. Strub will probably be named president with Stephens as treasurer. Graham will be business manager and Putnam is slated for the secretary's job.

MAGNET TO SACRAMENTO.
Graham is already busy arranging details for the training season that opens at Fresno next week and helping Jerry Downs in details of lining up players for the coming season. One report has it that the Seals will be with the Seals which would give them a promising infield. The Seals will be with the Seals which would give them a promising infield.

Fremont High School Champion of the County

Forfeited Game Ends Race—Oakland High Beats Technical For Second Place

By EDDIE MURPHY.
Fremont High School is again basketball champion of the Alameda County High School Athletic League. Coming through the season without a defeat the Fremont team again looks like a good bet to land the State school championship. Oakland High landed second place by a great battle to a 19-to-15 win over Technical yesterday, and the final game of the schedule slated for today between Fremont and Vocational was forfeited to Fremont when everybody conceded that there would be no chance for the fifth place boys to beat the leaders.

With both teams battling all the way to make the game one of the greatest played in the Alameda County High School League, the Oakland high team defeated Technical at the Oakland Auditorium yesterday afternoon by a score of 19 to 15. Oakland's second place victory Technical dropping to third. From start to finish the teams fought, with Oakland out in front the entire game, and Technical coming within a couple of points of tying the score often enough to give the Oakland rooters quite a scare. The Oakland team played its best game of the season when it beat the Technicals, and outplayed the Tech boys in the first three quarters, but in the last quarter which they started off with the score 17 to 8 against them, the Technicals boys showed an extra burst of speed. Horton made good on one of his long shots, and the Oakland team was brought back to the Oakland end of the court. Things were pretty shaky for the Oakland supporters with the final whistle blew. Damannakes made good on two free throws for the only point that Oakland made in the last quarter.

Louie Bullock at center and Dutch Thompson at guard for Oakland were the stars of the game. Bullock played the best game of the season, and there was more rooting done than at any other game. It was a great game for the Oakland and Technical rooters to watch, but Oakland was the happiest at the end.

SUMMARY.
Goals scored by Bullock: 2; Larkley: 2; Thompson: 3; Damannakes: 2; Score, Oakland, 19. Goals scored by Horton: 1; Bullock: 1; Score, Technical, 15. Personal fouls: Burpee, 2; Bullock, 2; Horton, 1; Larkley, 1; Thompson, 1; Richardson: 1; Horton: 1; Brobst: 1; Technical: 3. Technical fouls, Damannakes: 3; Burpee: 1; Bullock: 1; Larkley: 1; Thompson: 1; Spence: 2; Richardson: 1; Horton: 1; Brobst: 1; Technical: 5. Referee, Harris.

The game will be played at the St. Ignace school, and the St. Mary's boys are expected to win.

Tonight at the local Y. M. C. A. court the Fresno high school team for service men here will play the Exchth Company team from Camp Fremont. The army-navy championship was held up however until the Fremont team could have a chance to play the winner of last week's play. Tonight is the time for the play of the Fremont team, and the army-navy championship and the west watches hung up by the local War Camp Community Service Committees.

GIRL'S BODY IS FOUND IN BUTTE HILLS

SACRAMENTO, March 1.—The body of Irene Lamme, missing 19-year-old Colusa girl, has been found in Butte canyon, near its confluence with the Sacramento river, thus the mysterious disappearance of the pretty miss, which has puzzled relatives, officials and friends for nearly three weeks, is solved. Whether the girl committed suicide, fell into the canal by accident or met foul play remains to be determined. The body was brought to Colusa last evening for the inquest. The girl disappeared from the houseboat of former Supreme Justice Henshaw on the night of February 2.

The girl's father, Samuel Lamme, has been dragging the canal and river for days, since all other clues as to the whereabouts of his daughter had been run down. The search for the girl moved from Colusa and vicinity to Sacramento and other towns when reports came pouring in that a girl had been seen who has been positively identified by persons who knew Miss Lamme well. These reports, coupled with the fact that footprints, identified by the parents as made by their missing daughter, led from the houseboat, a distance of two miles and a half, where all trace of them was lost, led to the suicide or drowning.

SING KEE FREED; WHEREUPON HE TELLS FORECAST

SANTA CLARA, March 1.—Sing Kee, the Santa Clara weather prophet, was tried before a jury in a justice court on a charge of conducting a lottery. The jury was unable to agree and the case was dropped.

Sing immediately issued the following prediction:

"Friday little sun" win. Nice weather. Wahmar. Evening little cloudy. Weddah plitty fair Friday."

CLEW IN BROCK CASE FLATTENS

The new furnished the police yesterday by Mrs. Herman Luken, wife of a Southern Pacific employee, 274 Garber street, that the missing student, McKinley Parker Brock, who dropped out of sight on a Key Route train nearly two weeks ago, had called at her home and attempted to sell her postcards, fell flat today when it was learned that the man who called at the Lukens home was Frank Edmundson, an employee of the Nelson Nursery Company, Twenty-fifth avenue and the Foothill boulevard.

Edmundson declares he called at the Luken home and attempted to sell Mrs. Luken some postcards. Edmundson's mother is an employee of the same company, and the youth, who has a wife and child in Santa Barbara, was trying to get railroad fare to bring them to Oakland by selling postcards on the side. He declares Mrs. Luken acted peculiarly when he was talking to her, but he thought nothing of it until he learned later that he was supposed to be the missing university student.

Luken and Edmundson were at work today in the vicinity of the Key Route pier trying to find young Brock's body. Despite the efforts of volunteer theorists who have innervated a lot of impossible ideas into the case, the family still clings to the reasonable solution that young Brock was taken ill on the way home after an evening spent in merrymaking with friends, and fell from the train and was drowned.

Despite the efforts of volunteer theorists who have innervated a lot of impossible ideas into the case, the family still clings to the reasonable solution that young Brock was taken ill on the way home after an evening spent in merrymaking with friends, and fell from the train and was drowned.

Then the father decided to drag the canal and river painstakingly. Now after nineteen days, he was rewarded yesterday afternoon by finding the body of the girl.

The mother has always refused to admit the girl had run away, and insisted she was drowned. She said she knew nothing of her daughter's engagement to Henry Twardt, young baker shop employee and apurist, who the father said was engaged to marry the girl. Twardt's engagement to the girl was never heard of until after her disappearance.

The young man has cashed his bank account and has since dropped from sight. A court order directed that any telegrams he had sent at Colusa be exhibited. None were found. He came to Sacramento when the girl's father and mother were here on the hunt. Then he vanished.

CIVIC WORKERS ENDORSE PLAN

traceable to poor management, or to the putting into effect of a poorly conceived plan, out of harmony with the conditions.

"The problem of bringing producer and consumer together is by no means new. The big cities are almost all at work upon it, for it is in the cities more than in country towns, that the cost of living places a heavy burden upon the wage-earner, of late years almost an unbearable one. So the communities of the more advanced order have worked out a solution in the problem in the form of municipally owned markets."

"The matter was taken up by the Civic Association last night on the motion of Mr. H. C. H. He said:

"The TRIBUNE has taken up the market plan and is making a splendid campaign to bring about the establishment of a market. I think the time is opportune to get behind this movement and help bring it to success."

A motion to endorse the plan and instruct the city planning committee to cooperate in the work was adopted unanimously.

WITNESS LEAVES

TRIAL UNENDED

Being confused in his arithmetic in the trial of his suit against Anderson & Ringrose, aameda contractors who built the new $40,000 school and whom he was suing to collect $1700 alleged cost of extra work on account of his contract with them to do the plastering, Nick Muriale, plaintiff, left the court room of Superior Judge Joseph S. Koford and could not be persuaded by his attorney to return to the witness stand to give further testimony. Muriale alleged that the extra cost was occasioned by defective construction, leaving the walls out of plumb.

Asked how he figured the extra cost, Muriale answered that he subtracted the contract price from the total cost. Asked how he figured the cost to make his bid, he became confused and took refuge in flight.

Judgment was found for the defendant, the allegation of defective construction not being substantiated.

When Arthur I. Murdock, Oakland, business man, was good he was very good, so his wife, Marie, testified; but when he was in his rougher moods he was horrid. So Superior Judge Joseph S. Koford gave her a decree of divorce, she having shown that he was in his mood a full half of the time. During these moods he would not speak to her and she could not account for them except that when he came home at night she refused to be awakened to engage with him in his haphazard.

Every Saturday night, she said, he would go to "the shack," a place of his at Drawbridge, duck season or not, the year round, and she said she had that he had "great times there, with friends to dine and dance and make merry" till the golden glow of the new day.

On Saturday he said to her, she testified, "Now I am going to be happy; I am going to the shack. And if you want to see a picture of my girl, here she is."

The wife took the picture and said she had been standing with her arm about a yard from the pastoral type. She kept the photograph and showed it to the judge.

"An inspiration for happiness," his honor murmured as he looked at the evidence.

One day, Mrs. Murdock said, she sought her husband and said to him that there must be an understanding and adjustment of the situation.

"I will never be happy till I am by myself," immediately the wife determined to sue for happiness.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 1.—Dealing in the future deliveries of corn came near to a complete standstill. Opening figures, which showed an advance of a shade from 1.22 to 1.23, were steadily maintained.

Complaints of failure of eastern roads to accept shipments continued. The market was steady at the same as yesterday's finish with March 1.22 and May 1.27.

Continued sentinels of arrivals gave a further advance of a shade to 1.24, after opening at 1.23. The market scored moderate further gains.

Davie Praises Tribune Edition Boosting Harbor

MAYOR JOHN L. DAVIE

February 28, 1918.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: The Harbor Edition of last Sunday appealed to me as being very valuable to Oakland and Alameda County, particularly at this time of contemplated improvement.

The question of the bascule bridge, naval base, Oakland's harbor and general growth were very vividly pictured and will certainly serve to herald the wonderful advance which Oakland is making.

Yours very truly,

(Signed)

JOHN L. DAVIE, Mayor of the City of Oakland.

MEN ON CITY DREDGER ARE ON STRIKE

The strike of eleven journeymen and electricians on the municipal dredge today over differences with the civil service board which has refused increased salaries as demanded, threatened complications between the city and the United States Shipping Board over the probable tying up of three steel vessels now nearly ready to launch in the yards of the slow shipbuilding company.

Before all last two of the vessels can be slipped from the ways, it is necessary that certain dredging be done to protect the vessels as they go.

Captain A. P. Pillsbury, local agent of the shipping board, has urged the city authorities to make every effort to do the work which would consume ten or fifteen days.

LAYING PIPES NOW.

At the present time the pipes for carrying away the sludge are being laid in the vicinity of the Moore plant and the dredge is in operation on the Alameda channel on the western front. It is expected by Commissioner P. F. Morse of the public works department that the dredge will be moved in time for work at the Moore plant Monday morning. In the meantime efforts will be made to effect a settlement with the striking employees. There is said to be a scarcity of laborers, those who handle the operation of the dredging machinery and lack of these would prevent work being done.

To tie up the launching of the three ships for even a few days would entail a tremendous loss to the shipbuilders in money and loss of time to the government in completing the outfitting of the vessels.

WANT $15 INCREASE.

The journeymen are demanding an increase from $135 a month to $150 a month. President Roscoe D. Jones of the civil service board has taken the stand that the city should not pay more in salaries to dredge employees than is paid for similar work by private corporations. In that particular, Commissioner Morse points out, men in private employ receive certain bonuses and in many instances they're found in addition to $125 a month. Arrangements have been made to increase the pay of deckmen from $85 to $100 a month and also to increase the wages of lever men.

While several of the striking men have shown a disposition to return to work until the middle of the month at least, the ultimatum of the employees to quit today is being fulfilled by others who are holding out for action on the part of the civil service board. It is possible that the council will step in and assure the men of an increase, which would, if done now, become effective in eight days after passage of the ordinance. In the meantime hasty negotiations are being made to avert serious disaster to the plans for the launching.

BOYCOTT IN TRADE VOTED BY CHAMBERS

WASHINGTON, March 1.—An overwhelming vote in favor of a resolution warning German business men that an economic combination will be formed against Germany after the war, unless the danger of excessive armament is removed by making the German government a responsible instrument controlled by the people, was announced by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the conclusion of a preliminary canvass of its organization members. The vote as recorded to date is 1204 to 154.

Following is the resolution.

"Whereas, The size of Germany's present armament and her military attitude have been due to the fact that her government is a military autocracy, not responsible to the German people; and,

"Whereas, The size of the German armament after the war will be the measure of the greatness of the armament forced on all nations; and

"Whereas, Careful analysis of economic conditions shows that the size of Germany's future armament will fundamentally depend on her after-war receipts of raw materials and profits from her foreign trade; and,

"Whereas, In our opinion the American people, for the purpose of preventing an excessive armament, will assent to an economic combination against Germany, if governmental conditions in Germany make it necessary for self-defense; and,

"Whereas, We believe the American people will not join in indiscriminate destruction of German goods after the war if the danger of excessive armament has been removed by the fact that the German government has in reality become a responsible instrument controlled by the German people; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America earnestly calls the attention of the business men of Germany to these conditions and urges them also to study the situation and to cooperate to the end that a disastrous economic war may be averted and that a lasting peace may be made more certain."

Stomach Trouble. There are a great many who have been afflicted for a long time with some disorder of the stomach and finally been permanently cured. Mrs. W. E. Scott, Peoria, Ill., writes, "My husband suffered for years with stomach trouble before he commenced using Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets have done him good and have saved him a great deal of suffering. If you have not given Chamberlain's Tablets a trial you should do so, as you are almost certain to be benefited by them. For sale by C. Good Bros. Drug Store—Advertisement."
